PREFACE.

"Take . . . the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God."

Eph. 6:17.

"I never saw a useful Christian who was not a student of the Bible."

D. L. Moody.

THIS volume is issued as an aid to the study of the life of Jesus. It is felt that a more thorough acquaintance with that life, in its plan and progress, may be obtained by the method here presented than can be gained by the fragmentary reading of the Gospels. "The importance of studying the four Gospels in connection," says Dr. G. W. Clark, "cannot be too highly estimated or too earnestly enforced. No clear and well-defined image of the Savior's life can be formed in the mind without it. Selecting leading texts of events and discourses from the different Evangelists will not answer the demand. Each Evangelist must be allowed to contribute his part toward a full and perfect likeness. The true chronological order must also, as far as possible, be observed, or the view will be confused and distorted. But the constant turning from one Gospel to another, and the act of comparing and mentally deciding and arranging, are exceedingly inconvenient and laborious, and most persons who attempt it weary in the task. Hence the great value of an arrangement of the Scriptural text according to the probable order of events, . . . so that the eye can survey all the narratives of any incident or utterance at a glance."

In his harmonized presentation of the events and discourses of the four Gospels, the compiler of this work has followed, in general, the arrangement adopted by many modern Harmonists, among them Tischendorf, Robinson, Strong, Clark and Gardiner, which is based upon the view that Mark and John, with few exceptions, conform strictly to the chronological order: while Matthew and Luke, on the other hand, guided rather by the principle of association, frequently group together transactions and narratives, related to one theme or connected by a common thought, though they may have occurred at different times and in various places. Of the Harmonists named above, Dr. Gardiner has been most closely adhered to, although the arrangement of Robinson and Clark has been adopted in a few instances, as avoiding certain transpositions of some of the discourses, and thereby, it is thought, enhancing the value of the volume to Sunday-school workers for whose use, as constituting the large majority of Bible students among the laity, it has been especially prepared.

The chronology is that of the Rev. Samuel J. Andrews, as presented in his "Bible Student's Life of our Lord," London.

The references are, in the main, those which were made with extreme care and diligence by the learned and devout Dr. Blayney in 1769, and since then generally printed in the leading reference Bibles. To have given all these references in full would have greatly increased the size and cost of this book. Nor would it have served so well the end had in view as the plan here adopted. It is hoped that Scripture research will be stimulated by the offering of selections only from the great storehouse of references; for these selections may prove to the thoughtful and devout reader guide-posts, pointing to the fertile fields beyond—beginnings of that "unfolding of the divine words which," says the Psalmist, "giveth light." It has been the endeavor, further, to give prominence to such references as seem best adapted to illustrate the spiritual truths taught in the text. The compiler desires here to bear grateful testimony to the spiritual benefit which he feels that he himself has gained from this special study, which has extended over several years, an encouragement to hope that his book may be the medium of a similar blessing to many of his readers; and if that might be the result of his labors, great indeed would be his reward.

The references thus chosen, as also the text itself, will render the book helpful, it is thought, to leaders of prayer and conference meetings, at which passages from the Gospels are the theme for study.

The map and diagrams are a novel feature of this work, and to them the reader's special attention is called. They have been carefully prepared, and can hardly fail, if properly used, to facilitate an understanding of the text and to aid the memory.

The compiler has advanced no novel or strictly original views, but has followed closely in the track of men whose right to speak with some measure of authority upon these matters is undisputed. And yet he feels that he will not misrepresent the views of these scholars, whom he has chosen as guides, in stating that it is not claimed by them that the order of events or the chronology here presented, is established beyond question. To quote further from Dr. Clark, [These matters] "open a large field for the exercise, both of the judgment and of charity. The arrangement of many passages must depend largely on the discriminating taste of the Harmonist. What may appear probable and appropriate to one may seem less so to another. Dogmatism, therefore, is out of place; caution and a regard for the conclusions of others are ever becoming, and the study and comparison of different harmonies are desirable and very profitable."

Attention is called to the article on Bible Translations, a subject of importance to every student of the Scriptures.

No one can afford to overlook the Introduction by Dr. Henson. There is much of instruction, and of suggestion of deep truths presented in its pages. J. P. C.

INTRODUCTION.

WHEN we sing as we are accustomed to do,

“God is his own interpreter,
And he will make it plain,”

the meaning is, of course, that those dark providences which we so much dread, when interpreted by subsequent providences, when taken in their relation to the whole course of God’s providence, when that shall be set forth before us, instead of being regarded as black and baneful, will be seen to be radiant with beauty and freighted with love.

But the words we have quoted are susceptible as well of application to that higher and clearer revelation God has given of himself in his Word. Not only is there an unfolding of God’s meaning in Scripture, even as there is in Providence, so that what comes earlier is illuminated and made intelligible by what comes afterwards, but even apart from any chronological considerations, it must evermore be borne in mind that every truth is many-sided and every side, like the facets of a diamond, hath its own peculiar hue of prismatic beauty. It is not possible to see all the truth from any one standpoint, nor for any one form of statement to exhaust the fullness of its meaning.

And so in what we call the Bible, God has given us many books penned by many writers, each presenting such views of truth as his mental and spiritual nature made him specially adapted to be the vehicle of. Not that any one of these Scripture writers was left to wander at his “own sweet will,” so that we must largely discount his deliverances on account of his human imperfections and the possibility of his misapprehending what the Lord would have him teach. That were indeed to undermine utterly the authority of the Scriptures, and “if the foundations be destroyed what shall the righteous do?” We do most thoroughly and invincibly believe that “holy men of old spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost,” and that therefore what they spake may be absolutely relied upon. But while we believe that all that each one said was truth, God's truth, we do not believe it was all the truth. 'You must have all that all of them said, in order to be sure that you have all the truth. "Which things we speak," writes the Apostle Paul, "not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth, comparing spiritual things with spiritual." And only by such collation and comparison can God's truth be comprehended in all the breadth and beauty of its meaning. You cannot obtain any accurate representation of a building by taking only a single view. And so the photographer is accustomed to take two pictures, from a little different points of view, and when both these are looked at at once, as in a stereopticon, you see not two pictures, but one, and that not a flat surface such as each of the pictures shows, but a solid that stands out in its massiveness before your eyes. And yet even then you do not see the hinder part, but only half the building. To see it all in its completed symmetry, we should be obliged to have four views, and to look at them all at once. But this is, of course, impossible, inasmuch as we have not four eyes, but only two. But the principle applies though its application be impossible. Singularly enough there are just four gospels. The metropolis of gospel truth, like the heavenly metropolis, lieth four square. Four pictures have we here of the matchless Man of Nazareth,—four pictures, and all so much alike that sometimes captious critics have said that there was only one original gospel and the other three were copied from that. Four pictures, and yet all so different that other skeptical critics have alleged that there are glaring discrepancies in them, that are hopelessly irreconcilable. The pictures, of course, must be alike, for all of them are pictures of Him. The pictures, of course, must be unlike, for each of the portrait painters had his own peculiar point of view. And yet it takes all four to give us the Christ of history in all the completeness of his humanity and divinity. And so we turn from one to the other, and seek as best we can while gazing upon one to carry the others in our mind; and yet to the ordinary reader, and even to the reader that is more than ordinary, there is conscious difficulty and more or less confusion, in attempting such a process, and there would still be, even though all four of the gospels were spread before us in parallel columns, as has sometimes been done in preparing a gospel Harmony.

In the present volume the attempt is made to obviate this difficulty by weaving the four into one, and making a mosaic, in which the tracery and coloring of each of the divinely-guided artist-evangelists shall be faithfully preserved, and so the matchless portrait of the Son of Man shall beam upon us, as it were, from a single canvass instead of four. How well the attempt has succeeded must be left for the devout and scholarly student to judge. That it is not an easy task which our author has undertaken, he will himself very frankly concede; nor is it one in which absolute perfection can be possibly attained by human hands. That great pains have been taken, great research employed, and marked ability displayed in the preparation of this volume, must be readily apparent to every thoughtful reader of it. That it will be an aid of great value in Bible study, and that it will enhance our appreciation of the marvelous unity in variety, harmony in diversity, that distinguishes the gospel histories, and above all that it will contribute not a little to the clearness and fullness of our conceptions of him "in whom all fullness dwells, and of whose fullness we have all received, and grace for grace," I do very sincerely and firmly believe; and therefore I do very cordially commend it to all who love him, and long for his appearing, and who feel that above all things else, his "life is the light of men."

EXPLANATION OF TEXT.

THE figure ¹ in the text indicates that the portion following it has been taken from Matthew's Gospel. In like manner the figures ² ³ and ⁴ indicate the Gospel from which the portions following them are taken, ² indicating Mark, ³ Luke and ⁴ John. The figure ⁵ indicates that the words following it are not found in any of the four Gospels, but have been either introduced or substituted.

The chapters and verses given at the beginning of each section show what portions of each Gospel are incorporated in that section.

The words in smaller type, in brackets, are those that are not incorporated in the text either 1st, to avoid redundancy, or 2d, because they do not *coalesce with the words that are used in the text, or 3d, because they do not occur in the same relative position in the Gospel from which they came† as they do in the other Evangelists, much care having been taken throughout the entire work to preserve the exact sequence of each narrative wherever possible.

The figures ¹ ² ³ ⁴ which refer to the different Evangelists (as previously explained), when used within the brackets,

*The correct principle of uniformity in renderings which was adopted in the new version has permitted the coalescing of the sacred narratives, especially of the words of Jesus, to an extent that has been quite unexpected and most gratifying to the compiler, and in a very much more complete manner than it was possible in the common version, where the incorrect principle of diversity in renderings was a characteristic. See remarks on the two versions in the article entitled "A Brief History of the Translations of the English Bible," page 363.

†As illustrative of this, see "example" given herewith, where the words from Matthew "to come unto me," are put in the smaller type because they, in the original narrative, follow the words "forbid them not" instead of preceding them as is the case in Mark and Luke.

only indicate from where the words in the small type are taken, the text proper not being influenced by them.

EXAMPLE.

§105. CHRIST BLESSING LITTLE CHILDREN.

Perea (No. 64). (Going South.)

Matt. 19:13-15. Mark 10:13-16. Luke 18:15-17.

²²AND they were bringing [¹Then were there brought] ¹²³unto him ¹²little children [³also their babes], ¹²³that he should ¹lay his hands on them, [²touch them] and pray: ³but when [¹²and] ¹²³the disciples ³saw it, they ¹²³rebuked them. But ²when ¹²³Jesus ²saw it, he was moved with indignation, and ³called them unto him, ⁵and ¹²said ²unto them [³saying], ¹²³Suffer the little children ²³to come unto me, ¹³and ¹²³forbid them not: [¹to come unto me:] for to such belongeth the kingdom of ²³God [¹heaven.]

The number "64" in the heading refers to the corresponding number on the "Map of the Pathways of Jesus." The words "(Going South)" indicate the probable direction of his journey at the time when this incident occurred.

The figures ²³ in the first line of the text indicate that the words "And they were bringing" are taken from Mark and Luke; while the brackets, the small type and the figure ¹ indicate that these words "Then were there brought" are from Matthew, but are not incorporated in the text of this work. The figures ¹²³ next following, indicate that the words "unto him" are taken from Matthew, Mark and Luke; and the figures ¹² before "little," indicate that the words "little children" are taken from Matthew and Mark; while the brackets, small type and figure ³ indicate that the words "also their babes" are taken from Luke, but are not incorporated in the text. In the same way it will be understood that the words "that he should" are from Matthew, Mark and Luke; "lay his hands on them, and pray," are from Matthew, [¹ "touch them"] are from Mark and Luke, but not incorporated in the text; [² and] is from Matthew and Mark, but not incorporated in the text. The figure ³ in the sixth line, indicates that the word "and" is not found in any Gospel, but has been introduced. In a similar manner the remainder of the section will be readily understood.

Thus every word and phrase in each of the Gospels will be found in this work either woven into the text or placed within the brackets in the smaller type. The reader will therefore have a continuous narrative, a complete Harmony, and a ready exhibit of the differences between the Evangelists; and by his perusal of this one account of the Savior's life he will receive into his mind in a clear and coherent form every thought that is found in the four separate accounts.

AND Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, "into a city of Judah; and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit; and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, 'Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. §6. BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.

Juttah, near Hebron. June, B.C. 5.

Luke 1:57-80.

NOW ELISABETH'S time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her; and "they rejoiced with her. And it came to pass ^bon the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. And his mother answered and said, "Not so; but he shall be called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, "His name is John. And they marvelled all. "And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, blessing God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them; and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all ^cthe hill country of Judæa. And all that heard them ^dlaid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For ^ethe hand of the Lord was with him.

And his father Zacharias ^fwas filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying, v [The first division ends with David, including him in number 14; the second division begins with David, including him also in the second 14. This is in accordance with usage, but shows that this statement of Matthew as to the number of the generations is meant to apply only to the list given, and not to the number which had actually existed. The same thing appears from the fact that in Matthew's list the names of Jewish kings are omitted between Joram and Uzziah, viz.: Ahaziah, Joash and Amaziah. Also, between Josiah and Jechoniah, the name of Jehoiakim is omitted. Of the existence of these intermediate generations St. Matthew, regarded simply as a pious Jew, could not have been ignorant. Such omissions in genealogies abound in Scripture. Thus, Ezra (7:1-5) in recording his own genealogy, omits six or seven of the names given in 1 Chro. 6:3-15. (Cf. also 1 Chro. 4:1 with 2:50, etc.)—Gardiner.] [One of the purposes of this grouping into periods was probably to assist in memorizing the list.] [Matthew aims to shew that Jesus is the heir of the two great Jewish covenants—that with Abraham, and that with David. To this end he must establish, first, that Joseph, Jesus' legal father, was of David's house, and so a lawful heir of the dignity promised in the covenant; second, that Jesus stood in such relation to Joseph as himself to have legal claim to all promises belonging to the latter. He therefore brings prominently forward in his Gospel the fact that Joseph was of royal lineage, and cites his genealogical register in proof.—Andrews, page 54.] [Adding the four omitted names to Matthew's list, Jesus was thirty-one generations removed from David in Joseph's line, and forty-two generations from David in his mother's line; thus giving an average of thirty-two years to a generation in the former line and about twenty-four years to a generation in the latter line.]

§ 12. THE MAGI VISIT HEROD AND JESUS.

Jerusalem, Bethlehem. (No. 3.) February, B.C. 4.

Matt. 2:1-12.

Now "when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judæa in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men [Marg., Gr. "Magi"] from ^bthe east came to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw ^ahis star in the east, and are come to worship him. And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all ^cthe chief priests and scribes of the people, ^ehe inquired of them where the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa; for thus it is written through the prophet,

^hAnd thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,

Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah;

For out of thee shall come forth a governor,

Who shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

Then Herod privily called the wise men, and learned of them carefully what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully

And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. And being warned of God ^kin a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

§13a. THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT. (No. 4).

About sixty miles southwest of Bethlehem. February, B.C. 4.

Matt. 2:13-15.

Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt; and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, "Out of Egypt did I call my son."

Bethlehem.

Matt. 2:16-18.

THEN Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men [Marg., Gr. "Magi"] was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the wise men. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through "Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

A voice was heard in Ramah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

§23. AT THE PASSOVER. JESUS DRIVES THE TRADERS OUT OF THE TEMPLE.

Jerusalem. (No. 15.) April, A.D. 27.

John 2:13-25.

AND the "passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not 'my Father's house a house of merchandise. His disciples remembered that it was written, "Zeal for thy house shall eat me up. The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, 'What sign

But he spake of the temple of his body. When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, beholding his signs which he did. PART IV.

FROM THE SECOND PASSOVER DURING CHRIST'S PUBLIC MINISTRY UNTIL THE THIRD.

Time—One Year.

§39. JESUS ATTENDS THE PASSOVER AND HEALS AN INFIRM MAN AT THE POOL OF BETHESDA ON THE SABBATH; AND TEACHES.

Jerusalem. (No. 27.) April A. D. 28.

John 5:1-47.

AFTER these things there was "a [Marg., many read "the feast"] feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

Now there is in Jerusalem by the 'sheep gate' a pool, which is called in Hebrew, Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, withered. And a certain man was there, who had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made whole? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, "Arise, take up thy bed [Marg., or "pallet"], and walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

b Neh. 3:1 and 12:39.

c Matt. 9:6 (§ 36).

Now it was the sabbath on that day. So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and 'it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed. But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed knew not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing befall thee. The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him whole. And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things on the sabbath. But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

Jesus therefore answered and said unto them

Matt. 6:19-24.

¹^bLay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves break [Marg., Gr., "dig"] through and steal; "but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. "The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other: "Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

OF DEPENDENCE UPON GOD.

Matt. 6:25-34.

¹Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? ²Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto [Marg., or, "his stature"] the measure of his life? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. ³But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

For [¹and] ¹³with ^mwhat measure ye mete, it shall be measured ¹unto [³to] ¹³you ³again.

³And he spake also a parable unto them, ³Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit? ³The disciple is not above his master; but every one when he is perfected shall be as his master. ¹³And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone; or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen among us. and God hath visited his people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares also among the wheat, and went away. But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. And the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares? And he said unto them, An enemy hath done this. And the servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

THE SEED GROWING SECRETLY.

Mark 4:26-29.

And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how. The earth beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit is ripe, straightway he putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

THE GRAIN OF MUSTARD SEED.

Matt. 13:31-32. Mark 4:30-32.

^{bb} ¹Another parable set he before them, saying [²And he said], ²How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? ^c ¹The kingdom of heaven

^a Matt. 3:12 (§ 16) [By John concerning Jesus], "whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor, and he will gather his wheat into his garner, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire."

^c Mic. 4:1 [Growth of the kingdom foretold]. Isa. 2:2, 3 [Growth of the kingdom being realized]. Acts 2:41; 4:4; 5:1, 4 and 19:20.

[²It] ¹is like ¹unto ^{1a}a ^dgrain of mustard seed, which ^{1a}a man took and sowed in his field; which [²when it is sown upon the earth], ²though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, yet, when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh [¹indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown it is] ¹greater than ²all ¹the herbs, ¹and becometh a tree, ²and putteth out great branches; ¹so that the birds of the heaven ¹come and ²can ¹lodge ¹in the branches ²under the shadow ¹thereof.

THE LEAVEN. (See §93.)

Matt. 13:33.

Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures [Marg., The Greek word denotes the Hebrew, Seah, a measure containing nearly a peck and a half] of meal, till it was all leavened.

WHY HE SPAKE IN PARABLES.

Matt. 13:34-35. Mark 4:33-34.

¹All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes: ²and with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were ²able to hear it; ¹and without a parable spake he ¹nothing [²not] ¹unto them: ¹that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the ²prophet, saying,

I will open my mouth in parables;

I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world, ²but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

^d Matt. 17:20 (§ 72) [When the disciples could not heal the demoniac boy], "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence," etc. Luke 17:6 (§ 100), "If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and planted in the sea; and it would obey you."

^f Psa. 78:2, "I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old."

JESUS EXPLAINS THE PARABLE OF THE TARES, AND SPEAKS
OTHER PARABLES.

Matt. 13:36-43.

Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the parable of the tares of the field. And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; and ^athe field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are ^athe sons of the evil one; and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and ^tthe harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are angels. As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire, so shall it be in the end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and ^athey shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them that do iniquity, and ^sshall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. ^mThen shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. ⁿHe that hath ears, let him hear.

HIDDEN TREASURE.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net [Marg., Gr. "drag-net,"] that was cast into the sea, and gathered ¹of every kind: which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. So shall it be in the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and ¹sever the wicked from among the righteous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure things ¹new and old.

And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

²AND they came [¹And when he was come] ^{1 2}to the other side ²of the sea, ^{1 2}into [³And they arrived at] ^{1 2 3}the country of the ^{2 3}Gerasenes [¹Gadarenes], ³which is over against Galilee.
^{2 2}And when he was come ³forth ²out of the boat ³upon the land, ²straightway ^{1 2 3}there met him ¹two possessed with demons, coming forth ^{1 2}out of the tombs, ¹exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. ⁵And one of them [³a certain man out of the city, who had demons; and] ³for a long time [³he] had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, but [²a man with an unclean spirit, who] ²had his dwelling with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces; and no man had strength to tame him. And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones.

^{2 3}And when he saw Jesus ²from afar, ^{2 3}he ³cried out

John 6:22-71; 7:1.

ON the morrow the multitude that stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone (howbeit there came boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks): when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but "for the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him ^athe Father, even God, hath sealed. They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, "This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? What then if ye should behold the Son of man ascending where he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, Would ye also go away? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life. And we have believed and know that thou art the Holy One of God. Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you the twelve, and one of you is a devil? Now he spake of Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

§64. UNWASHEN HANDS. TRADITION OF THE ELDERS.

Capernaum. (No. 42.) April, A.D. 29.

Matt. 15:1-20. Mark 7:1-23.

¹THEN there came to Jesus [²And there are gathered together unto him] ²the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, that had come ^{1 2}from Jerusalem [¹Pharisees and scribes] ²and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with defiled (that is, unwashen) hands. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands diligently [Marg., or, "up to the elbow." Gr., "with the fist"], eat not, holding the tradition of the elders; and when they come from the market place, except they bathe [Marg., Gr., "baptize." Some read, "sprinkle themselves"] themselves, they eat not; and many other things there are, which they have received to hold, washings [Marg., Gr., "baptizings"] of cups, and pots, and brassen vessels. And the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, ¹saying, ^{1 2}Why ²walk not thy disciples according to [¹do thy disciples transgress] ^{1 2}the "tradition of the elders, ¹for they wash not their hands when they eat bread, ²but eat their bread with defiled hands? ¹²And he ¹answered and ¹²said unto them [¹Ye hypocrites], ¹²Well did Isaiah prophesy of you ²hypocrites, ¹saying ²as it is written:

^a Col. 2:8, "Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ."

^{12aa}This people honoureth me with their lips;
 But their heart is far from me.
 But in vain do they worship me,
 Teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men.

¹Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? ²Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men. And he said unto them, Full well do ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. ¹²For ¹God ⁶through ²Moses, ¹²said, ⁶Honour thy father and thy mother; and, ⁶He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him die the death: But ye say, ²If a man [¹Whosoever] ¹²shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is ²Corban, that is to say, ¹²Given to God; ¹he shall not honour his father ⁵and ²ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; ²making [¹And ye have made] ¹²void the word of God ²by [¹because of] ¹²your tradition, ²which ye have delivered; and many such like things ye do. ¹²And he called to him the multitude ²again, ¹²and said unto them, Hear ²me all of you, ¹²and understand: ²there is nothing from without the man [¹Not that] ¹which ⁶entereth into the mouth [²that going into him] ²can defile him [¹defileth the man]: ¹but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man [²but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man].

¹Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, when they heard this saying? But he answered and said, 'Every plant which my heavenly Father planted not, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they are ¹blind guides. And if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit. ¹²And ²when he was entered into the house from the multitude, ¹Peter answered and said unto him, Declare unto us the parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also]? ¹²Perceive ye not, that whatsoever ²from without ¹²goeth ⁵at [¹into] ¹²the mouth ²into the man, it cannot defile him: because it goeth not into his heart, but ¹passeth ¹²into ²his [¹the] ¹²belly, and ²goeth [¹is cast] ¹²out into the draught? ²*This he said*, 'making all meats clean. And he said, ¹But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart: and they defile the man [²That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man]. ¹²For ²from ²within, ¹²out of the heart ²of men ¹come forth ¹²evil thoughts [²proceed], ¹²murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, ¹false witness, railings, ²covetings, wickednesses, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye [²railling], pride, foolishness: all these evil things proceed from within, and ¹these are the things which ¹²defile the man: ¹but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

(Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophœnician by race.) And she besought him that he would cast forth the demon out of her daughter: ¹and cried, saying, ^cHave mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a demon. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away: for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. But she came and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. ¹²And he ¹answered and ¹²said ²unto her, Let the children first be filled; for ¹²it is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the ^ddogs. And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Israel.

PART VI.

FROM THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES TILL CHRIST'S FINAL ARRIVAL AT BETHANY.

Time—About Six Months.

§81. JESUS AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES.

Jerusalem, Autumn, A.D. 29. (No. 54.)

John 7:11-52.

THE Jews, therefore, sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

But when it was now the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, "My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man willeth to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it is of God, or whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law?

^a John 8:28 (§ 83); 12:49 (§ 125) and 14:10. 24 (§ 136a), "The word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me."

Why seek ye to kill me? The multitude answered, ^bThou hast a demon: who seeketh to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, I did one work, and ye all marvel because thereof. ^cMoses hath given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but ^dof the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumcise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye wroth with me, ^ebecause I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? ^fJudge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? ^gHowbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is. Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. I know him; because I am from him, and he sent me. They sought therefore to take him; and no man laid his hand on him, because his hour was not yet come. But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him. Jesus therefore said, ^hYet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto 'the Dispersion among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?

Now on ^{the} last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, 'If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, "from within him shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he "of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: for the Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet 'glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth "the prophet. The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? The officers answered, 'Never man so spake. begged? Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight. And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a division among them. They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, ^gHe is a prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. These things said his parents, because ^hthey feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know that this man is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he is a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? Would ye also become his disciples? And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, we know not whence he is. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened mine eyes. ^aWe know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on the 'Son of God? He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and ^mhe it is that speaketh with thee. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, "For judgment came I into this world, that ^ethey who see not may see; and that they who see may become blind. CHRIST THE SHEPHERD.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the 'door of the sheep. All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly. I am the 'good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and 'leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. And she had a sister called Mary, who also had 'sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered [Marg., Gr., "distracted"] about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. Luke 11:1-13.

AND it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, "Father [Marg., some read, "Our Father who art in heaven"], Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come [Marg., some add, "Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth"]. Give us day by day our daily bread. I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. "And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first bathed himself before dinner. And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees ^bcleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your ^cinward part is full of extortion and wickedness. Ye foolish ones, did not he that made the outside make the inside also? Howbeit give for alms those things which are within; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. So ye are witnesses and consent unto the works of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs. IN the meantime when the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the 'leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. But there is 'nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known. Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

"Let your loins be girded about, and 'your lamps burning; and be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may straightway open unto him. 'Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and shall come and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those servants. But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left his house to be broken through. Be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not the Son of man cometh.

And Peter said, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? And the Lord said, Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? §93. SLAUGHTER OF CERTAIN GALILÆANS. PARABLE OF THE BARREN FIG TREE. A WOMAN HEALED ON THE SABBATH. PARABLES OF THE MUSTARD SEED AND LEAVEN.

Judæa. (No. 57.)

Luke 13:1-21.

Now there were some present at that very season who told him of the Galilæans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And he answered and said unto them, Think ye that these Galilæans were sinners above all the Galilæans, because they have suffered these things? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

BARREN FIG TREE.

And he spake this parable: "A certain man had a fig

And he said unto the vine-dresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. And behold, a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, "There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not 'on the day of the sabbath. But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame: and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? Perea. (No. 60.)

Luke 14:1-24.

AND it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. And behold, there was before him a certain man who had the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. And he said unto them, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? And they could not answer again unto these things.

And he spake a parable unto those that were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, "When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place: and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher; then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, "Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. But he said unto him, 'A certain man made a great supper: and he bade many: and he sent forth his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. And the servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. And the Lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled.

Perea. (No. 60.)

Luke 14:25-35.

Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. Whosoever doth not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For who of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an embassy, and asketh conditions of peace? So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, cannot be my disciple. Salt therefore is good: but Now all "the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

THE LOST SHEEP.

15:3-7.

And he spake unto them this parable, saying, "What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost. I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, that need no repentance.

THE PRODIGAL SON.

And he said, A certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of thy [Marg., Gr., "the "] substance that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks [Marg., Gr., "the pods of the carob tree "] that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. But when he came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. "But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him [Marg., Gr., "kissed him much "]. And they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. And he called to him one of the servants, and inquired what these things might be. And he said unto him, Thy brother has come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and intreated him. But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: but when this thy son came, who hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the fatted calf. And he said unto him, Son [Marg., Gr., "child"], thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. But it was meet to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

§99a. THE PARABLE OF THE UNJUST STEWARD.

Perea. (No. 60.)

Luke 16:1-8.

AND he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship: for thou canst be no longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? And he said, "A hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred 'measures of wheat. JESUS REPROVES THE PHARISEES.

And the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things; and they scoffed at him. And he said unto them, Ye are they that justify yourselves in the sight of men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is 'exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God. 'The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man entereth violently into it. 'But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. 'Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for "I am in anguish in this flame. But Abraham said, Son, 'remember that thou in thy lifetime receivest thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they who would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. But Abraham saith, They have 'Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. §101. THE RESURRECTION OF LAZARUS, AND CONSEQUENT ACTION OF THE JEWS.

Bethany. (No. 61.) Jerusalem and Ephraim. (No. 62.)

John 11:1-54.

Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of "Mary and her sister Martha. And it was ^bthat Mary who anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but ^cfor the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judæa again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? ^d"If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him. These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus [Marg., that is, "Twin"], said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us go, that we may die with him.

So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother. Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even he that cometh into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is here, and calleth thee. And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) The Jews then who were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to weep there. Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping who came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. "Jesus wept. The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him! But some of them said, Could not this man, who opened the eyes of him "that was blind, have caused that this man also should not die? Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against [Marg., or, "upon"] it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days. Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldest see "the glory of God? So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou heardest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me. And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

Many therefore of the Jews, who came to Mary and beheld that which he did, believed on him. But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, 'What do we? for this man doeth many signs. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, nor do ye take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. Now this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; and "not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

And he said unto the disciples, ^bThe days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, "Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be in his day. And he spake also this parable unto certain who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and set all others at nought: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself: "God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me a [Marg., or, "the"] sinner. I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be ^dexalted.

Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. And when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour they received every man a shilling. And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a shilling. And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat. a [Saint Matthew speaks of two blind men, Saint Mark and Saint Luke mention only one of them, Bartimæus, who may have been either previously or subsequently better known. A more important difference is, that Saint Matthew and Saint Mark describe the miracle as having been performed after our Lord's departure from Jericho, while Saint Luke says that it was during his approach to the city. . . . The true solution of the difficulty seems to lie in the fact that our Lord probably spent some days in Jericho or its vicinity, and while there would naturally have made excursions into the country. Very possibly he spent his nights at some house in the country and came into the city during the day, as was his custom at Jerusalem, and as is still often done by travelers in the East. A miracle performed [³And it came to pass as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat] ^{1 2 3}by the wayside ³begging (⁵one of them was ²the son of Timeus, Bartimeus, a blind beggar); ³and hearing a multitude going by, ⁵they ³inquired what this meant. ^{2 3}And ^{1 2}when ¹they ^{1 2}heard that ²it was ^{1 2}Jesus ²of Nazareth ⁵who ¹was passing by ⁵they ²began to cry out, and say [¹cried out, saying — ³they told him that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And ¹the multitude [³they] ³that went before [²many] ^{1 2 3}rebuked them that they should hold their peace; but they cried out the more ^{2 3}a great deal, ¹saying, Lord, ^{1 2 3}thou Son of David, have mercy on us. And Jesus stood ^{1 2}still ^{1 2 3}and ³commanded ⁵them ³to be brought unto him [¹called them — ²said, Call ye him]. ²And they call the blind ⁵men, ²saying unto ⁵them, ²Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth ⁵you. ²And ⁵they ²casting away ⁵their garments ²sprang up, and came to Jesus. ^{2 3}And ³when ⁵they were ³come near, ²Jesus answered ⁵them ^{1 2}and said [³he asked him], ^{1 2 3}What will ye that I should do unto you? ^{2 3}And ²the blind ⁵men ^{2 3}said [¹they say] ^{1 2}unto him, ^{1 3}Lord [²Rabboni], ¹that our eyes may be opened; ⁵and ^{2 3}that ⁵we ^{2 3}may receive ⁵our ^{2 3}sight. ^{1 2 3}And Jesus, ¹being moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and ^{2 3}said unto ⁵them, ²Go ⁵your ²way: ³receive ⁵your ³sight: ⁵your ^{2 3}faith ⁵hath made ⁵you ^{2 3}whole. when he had thus gone into the country, and was nearing the city on his return, might naturally be described by one Evangelist as taking place when he had gone out of the city, and by another with more particularity, as being performed on his approach to the city.—Gardiner.] [Greswell thinks that there were two miracles, each at distinct times, and on different persons.] See Matt. 9:27-30 (§ 57) [a similar miracle].

Jericho. (No. 66.)

Luke 19:1-10.

AND he entered and was passed through Jericho. And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature. And he ran on before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, "He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have^a wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore^c fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as^d he also is^e a son of Abraham. For the^f Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

§111. PARABLE OF THE TEN POUNDS.

Near Jerusalem. (No. 67.)

Some good authorities deem this parable to be the same as that of the talents recorded in Matt. 25:14-30 (§127).

Luke 19:11-28.

AND as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that "the kingdom of God was immediately to appear. He said therefore, ^aA certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. And he called ten servants of his, and gave them ten pounds [Marg. Mina, here translated a pound, is equal to one hundred drachmas], and said unto them, Trade ye herewith till I come. But ^bhis citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us. And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more. And he said unto him, Well done, thou good servant: because thou wast "found faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds. And he said unto him also, Be thou also over five cities. And another came, saying,

^a Acts 1:6 [After his resurrection, and the disciples asked him], "Lord, dost thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father hath set within his own authority."

^b Mark 13:34 (§ 126c), "It is as when a man, sojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his servants, to each one his work, commanded also the porter to watch."

^c John 1:11 (§ 1), "He [the Light] came unto his own, and they that were his own received him not."

^d Matt. 25:21 (§ 127). Luke 16:10 (§ 99b) [In the parable of the unjust steward], "He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much."

Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I kept-laid up in a napkin: for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. He saith unto him, 'Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and I at my coming should have required it with interest? And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. Howbeit these mine enemies, who would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

And when he had thus spoken, he went on before, going up to Jerusalem.

Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him. Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead.

¹Now when Jesus [²And while he] ¹was ⁴in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper [⁴so] ⁴they made him a supper there: and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him. ²As he sat at meat, ⁴Mary therefore ²came [¹there came ¹unto him ¹a woman] ¹having an alabaster cruse of [⁴took a pound of — (¹exceeding) precious] ¹²ointment ²of pure nard, very ²costly: and ¹exceeding ⁴precious and ¹she ²brake the cruse and ¹poured it ²over [¹upon] ¹his head [¹as he sat at meat]: and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. ¹But ¹when the disciples saw it, they [²there were some that] ¹had indignation ²among themselves, ¹saying, To what purpose ²hath [¹is] ¹this waste ²of the ointment been made? ⁴The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

PART VII.

THE FIRST FIVE DAYS OF THE FOURTH AND LAST PASSOVER WEEK DURING CHRIST'S PUBLIC MINISTRY.

From Jesus' Public Entry into Jerusalem until the Passover Meal.

§113. JESUS ENTERS JERUSALEM PUBLICLY.

First Day of the Week (Sunday). April 2, A.D. 30. (Nos. 69 and 70.)

Matt. 21:1-11. Mark 11:1-11. Luke 19:29-44. John 12:12-19.

‘ON the morrow a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him.

^{1 2 3}And ¹it came to pass, ^{1 2 3}when ^{1 2}they [³he] ^{1 3}drew [²draw] ^{1 2 3}nigh ^{1 2}unto Jerusalem, ¹and came ^{1 2 3}unto Bethphage ^{2 3}and Bethany, ^{2 3}at [¹unto] ^{1 2 3}the ¹mount ^{1 2}of Olives, [³that is called Olivet,] ¹then Jesus [³he] ^{1 3}sent [²he sendeth] ^{1 2 3}two ^{2 3}of ²his [³he] ^{1 2 3}disciples, ²and saith [^{1 3}saying] ^{1 2}unto them, ^{1 2 3}Go ^{2 3}your way ^{1 2 3}into the village ^{1 2}that is ^{1 2 3}over against you; ^{1 2}and straightway [³in the which] ^{2 3}as ye enter ²into it, ^{1 2 3}ye shall find ¹an ass tied, and [¹a colt] with her ^{2 3}a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat: ^{1 2 3}loose ¹them [^{2 3}him] ^{1 2 3}and bring ¹them [^{2 3}him] unto me. ^{1 2 3}And if any one, ^{1 2}say [¹ought] unto you, [³ask you], ^{2 3}Why do ye ³loose ³them [²this? — ³him?] ³thus shall ^{1 3}ye [¹shall] say, [²say ye], ^{1 2 3}The Lord hath need of ¹them [²him]; ¹and straightway he will send ¹them [²him] ²back hither. ¹²And ¹the disciples [²they] ²that were sent, ¹² went ²away, ¹and did even as Jesus appointed them, ²and found ³even as he had said unto them, ²a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him. ²And ³as they were loosing the colt ²certain of them,—³the owners thereof, ²that stood there ²said unto them, ²What do ye, loosing [³why loose ye] ²the colt? And they said ²unto them, even as Jesus had said, ³The Lord hath need of him: ²and they let them go. ¹²And ²they ¹brought [²bring] ¹the ass, and ¹²the colt ²unto [³him to] ²Jesus; ¹²and ³they threw [¹put on them—²cast on him] ¹²their garments ³upon the colt, ¹²and ³set Jesus [¹he sat ²upon him—⁴Jesus, having found a young ass, sat] ¹³thereon. ¹Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, ⁴as it is written, ¹saying,

³Tell ye the daughter of Zion,

⁴Fear not [⁴daughter of Zion]:

¹⁴Behold, thy king cometh ¹unto thee,

Meek, and riding upon an ass,

And upon a colt the foal of an ass [⁴sitting on an ass's colt].

¹²And ³as he went ¹the most part of the multitude [²many—³they] ¹²spread their garments ¹³in [²upon] ¹²the way: ¹²and others ¹^dcut ¹²branches ¹from the trees [²which they had cut], ²from the fields: ¹and spread them in the way. ³And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen. ¹²And ¹the multitudes [²they] ¹²that went before ¹him, ¹²⁴and ²they ¹²that followed, ¹²⁴cried 'out, ¹³saying, ¹²⁴'Hosanna 'to the Son of David:

¹²⁴'Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, 'even the King of Israel.

'Blessed is the kingdom that cometh, the kingdom of our father David:

'Blessed is the king that cometh in the name of the Lord:

Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest,

¹²Hosanna in the highest.

'These things ²understood not the disciples at the first: but when Jesus was ⁴glorified, ¹then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. For this cause also the multitude went and met him, for that they heard that he had done this sign. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Behold how ⁴ye prevail nothing: lo, the world is gone after him.

³And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples. And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, 'the stones will cry out.

³And when he drew nigh, he saw the city and ²wept over it, saying, If thou hadst known in this day, even thou, the things which belong unto peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies ²shall ast up a bank about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, and shall ²dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and they ²shall not leave in thee one stone upon another: because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

¹²And ²he entered [¹when he was come] ¹²into Jerusalem, ²into the temple: ⁵and ¹all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? And the multitudes said, This is ²the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

²And when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

§119. PARABLE OF THE MARRIAGE OF THE KING'S SON.

Jerusalem. (No. 73.) Third day of the week (Tuesday).

Matt. 22:1-14.

AND Jesus answered and "spake again in parables unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: and the rest laid hold on his servants, and entreated them shamefully, and killed them. But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. And those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man who had not on a wedding-garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. Then the king said to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and cast him out into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. John 12:37-50.

BUT though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake,

'Lord, who hath believed our report?

And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?
 For this cause they could not believe, for that Isaiah said again,

'He hath blinded their eyes, and he hardened their hearts;

Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart,

And should turn,

And I should heal them.

'These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory; and

Some good authorities deem this parable to be the same as that of the ten pounds recorded in Luke 19:11-28. (§ 111.)

For it is as when a man, ^kgoing into another country, called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; ^lto each according to his several ability; and he went on his journey. Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. In like manner he also that received the two gained other two. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, "I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. His lord said unto him, well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou hast thine own. But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter; thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. Matt. 27:15-26. Mark 15:6-15. Luke 23:17-25. John 18:39-40; 19:1.

¹Now at the feast ¹the governor was wont [²he used] ¹to release unto ¹the multitude [²them] ¹one prisoner, whom they ²asked of him [¹would]. ¹And they had then a notable prisoner [²And there was one], ¹called Barabbas. ⁴Now Barabbas was a robber: ³one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison, ⁵and was ²lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder. ¹When therefore they were gathered together, [²And] ²the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. And ¹Pilate ²answered them, saying [¹said unto them — ⁴But], ⁴Ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: ¹Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ? ²Will ye ⁴therefore ²that I release unto you the King of the Jews? ¹For he ²perceived [¹knew] ¹that for envy ²the chief priests [¹they] ¹had delivered him up.

¹And while he was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

a Acts 3:14, "Ye denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be granted unto you, and killed the Prince of life."

¹Now [²But] ¹²the chief priests ¹and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas [²stirred up the multitude], ²that he should rather release ⁶him [²Barabbas] ²unto them: ¹and destroy Jesus. [³But] ⁹They cried out all together, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas [³(one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison)]. ³And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus [¹But the governor answered and said unto them], ¹Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? ⁴They cried out therefore again, saying, Not this man, but [¹And they said] ¹⁴Barabbas [(⁴Now Barabbas was a robber)]. ²And ¹²Pilate ²again answered and said [¹saith] ¹²unto them, What then shall I do unto ¹Jesus [²him], who is called Christ? ²whom ye call the King of the Jews? ³But ¹³they ¹all, [³And they] ²cried out [¹say] again, ⁵and ³shouted, saying, Crucify, ²³crucify him. ¹Let him be crucified. ²And Pilate [³And he] ²³said unto them [¹And he said] ³the third time, ¹²³Why, what evil hath ³this man [¹²he] ¹²³done? ³I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him and release him. ¹²But they cried out exceedingly, ¹saying, ²Crucify him. ¹Let him be crucified. ⁵And [³But] ³they were urgent with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed.

¹So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he ⁶took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. And all the people answered and said, ⁶His blood be on us, and on our children.

¹Then [²³And] ²³Pilate, ²wishing to content the multitude, ³gave ⁴sentence that what they asked for should be done. And he ¹²³released [¹he] ¹²unto them Barabbas, §152. THE CRUCIFIXION.

Jerusalem. (No. 84.) Sixth Day of the Week. (Friday, 9 A.M., April 7, A.D. 30.)

Matt. 27:35-38. Mark 15:24-28. Luke 23:33b, 34, 38. John 19:18-24.

²AND it was the third hour, and they crucified him. ²And with him they crucify [¹Then are there crucified with him —³there they crucified him, and —⁴where they crucify him, and with him] ^{1 2 4}two ⁴others, ³the malefactors ⁵and ^{1 2}robbers; ^{1 2 3}one on ²his [^{1 3}the] ^{1 2 3}right hand, and one on ²his [^{1 3}the] ^{1 2 3}left [⁴on either side one], ⁴and Jesus in the midst. ³And Jesus said, Father, ⁴forgive them: for they ⁵know not what they do.

⁴And Pilate wrote a title also, and put [⁴it —¹And they set] ¹up over his head, ⁴on the cross, ¹his accusation. ^{2 3}And [³there was also a] ²the ^{2 3}superscription [³over him] ²of ^{1 2}his accusation ²was ^{1 2}written [²over] ⁴in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek. And there was written,

^{1 3}THIS IS ^{1 4}JESUS ⁴OF NAZARETH,
^{1 2 3 4}THE KING OF THE JEWS.

⁴This title therefore read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city [⁴and it was written (in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek)].

⁴The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews. Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

⁴The soldiers therefore [¹And] ^{1 4}when they had crucified ⁴Jesus [¹him] took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part, and also the coat [¹they parted his garments among them, casting lots —²And they crucify him, and part

And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, offering him vinegar, and saying, If thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself. ¹⁴And the robbers also [²And they] ¹²that were crucified with him ¹cast upon him the same reproach [²reproached him].

³And one of the malefactors that were hanged railed on him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? save thyself and us. But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss. And he said, Jesus, remember me when thou comest in thy kingdom. And he said unto him, Verily, I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

John 19:31-37.

THE Jews therefore, because it was the ^aPreparation, that ^bthe bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him: but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there ^ccame out blood and water. And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye also may believe. §164. ANGELS FIRST, AND THEN JESUS APPEAR TO MARY MAGDALENE.

Jerusalem. (No 86.) First Day of the Week.

Mark 16:9. John 20:11-17.

²Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to ⁴Mary Magdalene, from whom he cast out seven demons.

[⁴But] ⁴Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. When she ⁶had thus said, she turned herself back, and beholdeth

Jesus standing, and 'knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, Rabboni: which is to say, Master: Jesus saith to her, Touch me not [Marg., or, "Take not hold on me"], for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto ^dmy brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father, and ^emy God and your God.

these things unto her. ²And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, disbelieved. ¹And behold, Jesus met them (^ethe other women), ¹saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him. Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell ^emy brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

§166. THE REPORT OF THE WATCH.

Jerusalem. First Day of the Week. (Sunday, April 9, A.D. 30.)

Matt. 28:11-15.

Now while they were going, behold, some of the ^eguard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and rid you of care. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth until this day.

[⁵And, behold,] ⁶Two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. ⁷But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. And he said unto them, What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. And one of them, named ⁸Cleopas, answering said unto him, Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days? And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, ⁹who was a prophet ¹⁰mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: and how the ¹¹chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. But ¹²we hoped that it was he that should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now the third day since these things came to pass. Moreover ¹³certain women of our company amazed us, having been early at the tomb; and when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive. And ¹⁴certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and

And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! ^kBehoved it not the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into his glory? And beginning from ^lMoses and from ^mall the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and he made as though he would go further. ⁿAnd they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent. And he went in to abide with them. And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, ^ohe took the bread, and blessed; and breaking it he gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he ^pvanished out of their sight. And they said one to another, Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he opened to us the scriptures?

^qAnd they rose up that very hour, ^rand [^sthey] went away, ^tand returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. (Sunday, between 6 and 9 P. M.)*

Mark 16:14. Luke 24:36-43. John 20:19-25. 1 Cor. 15:5.

²AND afterward he was manifest unto ^athe eleven [Paul, ^bto the twelve"] themselves, as they sat at meat, ^cin this manner: ^d'When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first ^eday of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews: ^fand as they spake these things, ^gJesus came and [^hhe] ⁱhimself ^j'stood in the midst ^kof them; ^l'and saith unto them, Peace ^mbe unto you. ⁿBut they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they beheld a ^ospirit. ^pAnd he upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them who had seen him after he was risen. ^qAnd he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? And wherefore do questionings arise in your heart? See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see: for a spirit ^rhath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having.

^s'And when he had said this, he shewed ^tunto ^u'them his hands ^vand his feet ^wand his side. ^xAnd while they still disbelieved ^yfor joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here anything ^z'to eat? And they gave him a piece of broiled fish. And he took it, and did eat before them.

And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Spirit: whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

But Thomas, one of the twelve, ^{called Didymus} [Marg., that is, "Twin"], was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. §170. JESUS APPEARS TO SEVEN DISCIPLES AT THE SEA OF GALILEE.

(April A D. 30.) (No. 89.)

Matt. 28:16a. John 21:1-24.

^aBUT the eleven disciples went into Galilee. ^bAfter these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus [Marg., that is "twin"] and ^cNathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the ^dsons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and that night they took nothing. But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples ^eknew not that it was Jesus. ^fJesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye aught to eat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, ^gCast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. ^hThat disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he was naked) [Marg., or, "had on his under garments only"], and cast himself into the sea. But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. So when they got out upon the land, they see a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. Simon Peter therefore went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, the net was not rent. Jesus saith unto them, “Come and break your fast. And none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou, knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise. This is now the ^athird time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

^aSo when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, ^{}lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord: thou knowest that I [†]love thee. He saith unto him, ^{}Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of John, ^{*}lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I [†]love thee. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but 'when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. Now this he spake, signifying by what "manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me. Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple "whom Jesus loved, following; who also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee? Peter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry 'till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? This is the disciple who beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and ^{we} know that his witness is true.

*† [Two different Greek words are here translated love, the first one, ἀγαπάω, is generally used to denote a pure spiritual affection, as God's love to man, or man's love to God; while the second one, shown by the †, φιλέω, implies a warmth of feeling between friends. To Christ's first two questions, Peter, now since his denials, profoundly sensible of his own weakness, could not venture to promise the high spiritual love called for by and due to his divine Master, but could only give assurance of his own fervent personal affection. On asking the question the third time, Christ graciously adopts the word employed by Peter, and now speaks to him again as a friend.—Cf. Dr. Roberts, of the English Revision Committee.]

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE
TRANSLATIONS OF THE ENGLISH BIBLE; ALSO,
AN ACCOUNT OF THE SEPTUAGINT AND VULGATE.

THE Bible was written in the languages which were spoken by the people for whom its different parts were originally prepared.

The Old Testament was given in Hebrew (except a small portion, viz.: a few words of Gen. 31:47 and Jer. 10:11, and of Ezra 4:8 to 6:18 and 7:12-26, and of Dan. 2.4 to 7:28, which was in the cognate dialect, Chaldaic), and the New Testament was given in Greek. It is a remarkable fact that both the Hebrew and the Greek became in turn practically dead languages very soon after the completion of each scripture canon, the former giving way to the latter as the result of the conquest of Alexander, and the latter yielding to the Latin when the supremacy of the Romans had become general. Thus these languages became, as it were, sealed up, and their words no longer subject to the changes incident to all living languages.

THE SEPTUAGINT (seventy).—This the most important of the ancient versions of the Old Testament Scriptures, is supposed to have been made at Alexandria about 285 B.C., by order of Ptolemy Philadelphus. Most of the books of the Old Testament are known to us by the Greek names first used in this translation; thus, Genesis means beginning; Exodus, departure (from Egypt); Deuteronomy, the second (giving of) the law, etc. Some portions of this version, noticeably the five books of Moses, are said to be much more accurate than others, thus showing different grades of scholarship. This was the version in common use at the time of Christ, and both he and the apostles freely quoted from it, and this is the chief reason that the Old Testament quotations, which we find in the New Testament so often differ from the words as found in the Old Testament itself.

THE VULGATE.—The received Latin version of the Bible. It was completed by Jerome in 405 A.D. He drew largely upon the Septuagint, and also upon somewhat imperfect original MSS., and did much of his work hurriedly, so that his version contains many errors, as he himself admitted. The Clementine edition of this version is the present standard of the Romish church.

But notwithstanding their errors, the Vulgate and the Septuagint are very important versions, and highly prized by all Biblical scholars.

During the Dark Ages, for a period of nearly one thousand years, the Bible in the native tongue of the people was practically a closed book, and remained so until the days of the great John Wycliffe in the fourteenth century. During this dark time a few straggling rays of Biblical light were here and there seen, as when in the seventh century, Cædmon translated the Psalms into English poetry, and in the eighth century the venerable Bede translated some of the Gospels into English prose, and in the tenth century King Alfred translated a small portion of the New Testament.

WYCLIFFE'S TRANSLATION.—To the learned and courageous John Wycliffe, however, belongs the great honor of having made the first translation of the whole Bible into English. He commenced his labors in 1375, and finished the New Testament in 1380, and the Old Testament in 1384, the last date being just one hundred years before the birth of Luther. The heroic life of Wycliffe is thrillingly interesting and ought to be familiar to all. The study of his life and times will cause the Christian to appreciate as never before the inestimable value of the Holy Scriptures in his own tongue. At that time the printing press was unknown, and every copy of the Bible had to be made by hand. So anxious were the people to obtain the word of God that they often gave a load of hay for a few chapters of St. James or St. Paul. Some gave the savings of years for the same object. Men even gave $40 to $50 for a little tract of Wycliffe's, containing scripture texts. It then required nearly three years to make a copy of the whole Bible, at a cost of about $1,500.*

We now come down about one hundred and fifty years to the second great period in the history of the English Bible, viz.: that of the martyr,

WILLIAM TYNDALE.—Between the time of Wycliffe and Tyndale the art of printing had been invented, thus enabling the latter to print the larger part of his version which he completed in 1530. From the time of the printing of Tyndale's New Testament in 1525 till 1611, when King James' version appeared, no less than seven different translations and revisions of the English Bible were issued, but nearly all of them had Tyndale's version as their principal model and basis. Of the Protestant versions the most important ones were Matthews', Coverdale's, Cranmer's or the Great Bible, Genevan, Bishops', and King James'. The Roman Catholics translated the New Testament at Rheims in 1452, and the Old Testament at Douay in 1609, both from the Latin Vulgate. Cranmer's, or the Great Bible, already mentioned, was issued in 1541, and was the first authorized version of the English Bible. The Psalms of this version are still retained in the book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

*The American Bible Society, Bible House, Astor Place, New York city, now furnish the entire Bible, C. V., in cloth, Agate ed., for 25 cents, and the New Testament for 5 cents.

THE GENEVAN VERSION, so-called from its place of issue, was completed in 1560 under the leadership of John Calvin. It was very popular, and continued to be printed long after the first appearance of King James' version. Indeed, as late as 1649, thirty-eight years after the latter version was first issued, we find that popular favor was sought for it by its being printed with the Geneva notes. The Genevan version was the first one to use the divisions of chapter and verse.

THE KING JAMES VERSION, the C. V. of our day, was first issued in 1611. It was not a new translation, but a revision of former translations, the principal model and basis of which, as previously stated, was Tyndale's version. But upon the whole it surpassed all its predecessors, and is probably the best version ever made for public use. "It reveals," says a member of the American Revision Committee, "an easy mastery of the rich resources of the English language, and blends with singular felicity Saxon force and Latin melody. Even its prose reads like poetry, and sounds like music. Its best recommendation is its universal adoption and use in every Protestant church and household that speaks the English tongue. It has admirably served its purpose for more than two hundred and fifty years, and is so interwoven with English and American literature that it can never be entirely superseded. Next to Christianity itself, the version of 1611 is the greatest boon which a kind Providence has bestowed upon the English race.

"But with all its acknowledged excellencies, it is the product of imperfect men, and has innumerable minor errors and defects. This has long since been felt by those who know it best and love it most. It may be greatly improved without sacrificing any of its merits. The translators had sound principles, except that of* unnecessary variations in renderings, and they made the best use of their resources. But the resources of the seventeenth century were limited; Biblical philology, geography, and archæology were yet in their infancy, and comparative philology and textual criticism were not yet born. Since that time Biblical scholarship in all its branches has made vast progress, especially within the last fifty years. The Greek and Hebrew languages, with all their cognate dialects, are better known now than ever before. The oldest and best uncial manuscripts of the Greek Testament have recently been discovered and thoroughly examined, together with the ancient versions and patristic quotations."

Many individual revisions of the Bible have been made since 1611, one by John Wesley, among others, but no organized effort in that direction until 1850, when the AMERICAN BIBLE UNION was formed. After sixteen years' labor, that society, in 1866, put forth its version of the New Testament, on which they had had the work of able scholars from several denominations. In this version the word "baptizo" was uniformly translated "immerse." This society also translated portions of the Old Testament, having completed the books of Genesis, Judges, Ruth, Job, Psalms, and Proverbs. Their editions of Genesis and Psalms have had extensive circulation.

The invaluable O. T. library, probably the most extensive one in America, which was collected by this society, is now in Morgan Park Theological seminary, near Chicago, the site of the flourishing Institute of Hebrew.

*Numerous illustrations from the C. V. of the result of this unsound principle can be given, but a few must suffice. In speaking of the extent of the darkness that occurred at the crucifixion, the same Greek word is translated in Matt. (27:45) and in Mark (15:33) as over the "land," and in Luke (23:44) as over the "earth." The new version correctly renders the word "land" in all three Gospels, with margin, "or earth."

Again in Matt. (25:46) the C. V. is "And these shall go away into everlasting punishment; but the righteous into life eternal." The corrected reading is "into eternal punishment"; and "into eternal life."

Again, in Matt. (26:41) in the C. V., are the words "the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak," while in Mark (14:38) the same original is rendered, "the spirit truly is ready," etc. The new version makes Mark read the same as Matthew did. See note, page xxii.

The labors of this society added impetus to the movement, which culminated in England, May 6, 1870, in the appointment of a commission to undertake what is now known as the ANGLO-AMERICAN REVISION—About eighty of the most distinguished Biblical scholars of England and America, representing all the leading Protestant denominations, have been engaged upon the work. In the spring of 1881, the New Testament committee, at the end of ten years' toil, completed their allotted task; and it is expected that the Old Testament committee will announce the completion of their labors during the year 1885. The revised New Testament has already been received into quite general favor among Bible students, and has not met with more opposition or adverse criticism than was anticipated; and this opposition will diminish as the important truth secures acknowledgment that the acceptance or rejection of a reading is not a matter of individual preference, but one of fidelity to the original.

In conclusion, attention is drawn to the fact that the new version will probably not be expected, for many years to come, to supersede the common version, but rather to supplement it, somewhat in the nature of a commentary; and if it shall have won for itself a general acceptance among the people, within the first twenty years of its existence, it will have done very much better than did its great predecessor.

To such as fear that the knowledge of the existence of different readings may have a tendency to undermine the faith of any in the authenticity of the Scriptures, it may be stated that never, in the history of Christianity, was there a more ardent and devout study of the Bible than during the period just following the translation by Tyndale, in 1530, when there were four or five different versions in the hands of the people.

EXPLANATION OF MAP AND DIAGRAMS.

ON the page opposite the "Map of the Pathways of Jesus" is presented a list of the "Principal Places Visited" by our Lord, beginning at Bethlehem, where he was born, and ending at Bethany, the place of his ascension; and these are given in chronological order, as shown by the numbers in the left-hand columns.* The corresponding numbers on the lines of the map and the diagrams, with the arrows, indicate at what town or country each journey terminated. Thus: line No. 2 shows that he went from Bethlehem to Jerusalem; line No. 3, that he went from Jerusalem to Bethlehem; line No. 4, that he went from Bethlehem to Egypt, etc. Several of the short journeys, mainly those about Capernaum and Jerusalem, could not conveniently be shown on the map, though indicated in the list. Omitted lines are such as would correspond to Nos. 11, 22, 23, 25, 26, 29, 30, 31, 34, 35, 41, 42, 47, 55, 56, 57, 58, 65, 67, and 68. Lines Nos. 69 to 85 inclusive are shown on the diagrams. None of his appearances after his resurrection are indicated on the map, except 87 Emmaus. Only in a few instances is the exact route pursued by our Saviour in going from place to place known; hence the lines on the map and diagrams are conjectural, except as to their general course and termination.

The letter and figure following each name in the list indicate the space on the map where the place will be found; thus, Jerusalem (G 2) is in the space where G from the sides of the map meets 2 from the top and bottom.

The "Diagrams illustrating the Principal Events of Crucifixion Week" will be found on the page following the list of the "Principal Places Visited."

See "Summary of the Principal Events in the Last Forty-Eight Days of our Lord's Life on Earth," on page 248.

* There are also numbers in the headings of the different sections of the book which correspond to these numbers. See § 8, page 33, and § 10, page 43, for No. 1; and § 11, page 44, for No. 2; and § 12, page 47, for No. 3, etc. See also "Explanation of Text," page xxii.
